Newman Family
Virginia

Tyler's Historical Magazine No. 9- Page 211.

Thomas Newman, great grandson of Thomas Newman the emigrant, married before 1740, Elizabeth, daughter of William Morton of Orange (county). He died in 1768. Boogher in his Cleanings of Virginia History, page 263, credits him with three children; Alexander, born Oct. 11, 1740; Reuben, and Abner.

" There is a record at Culpeper; the will of James Newman, dated march 7, 1776, proven June 16, 1777, attested by Thomas and Abner Newman, in which he names his brothers, Joseph, George, Alexander, and Reuben. The testator, who evidently was unmarried and a young man, gave as his reason for executing the will the possibility that he might not return from the wars. Alexander and Reuben were referred to as "of Orange" (Orange County).

" Abner Newman was also as stated by Boogher, a Revolutionary soldier and in his pension application referred to his brother, George, then living in Fairfax County, where the records disclose that a Joseph Newman resided after the Revolution. From the foregoing, it would appear that Thomas Newman and his wife, Elizabeth Morton had seven sons instead of three:- Alexander, Reuben, Abner, Joseph, George, Thomas and James. The will of James does not conclusively show that the Thomas who attested it was the testator's brother, but there was no other Thomas in, or near, Culpeper at that time old enough to have acted as a witness. Thomas Newman, cousin of the testator was then living in Berkeley County. This, and the fact that all the others, whose names appear in connection with the will were his brothers, indicate that Thomas was likewise a brother."

Va., Historical Magazine Vol. 10- Page 432. Portion of article by A.C. Quisenberry.

" Mr. William B. Newman, of Tulladega, Alabama, furnishes me the following facts from a family record left by his father, the late Hon. James Addison Newman, who stated that his father, Reuben Newman, was married in Virginia in 1831 to Mary Clark, daughter of Henry Towler Clark, and his grandfather was John Newman, married first Sidna Quisenberry, daughter of George Quisenberry, and his wife Jane Daniel, of Orange County, and that George was the son of Aaron Quisenberry and his wife, Joyce Gayle Dudley and that Aaron was the son of Thomas Quisenberry. This Thomas Quisenberry is supposed to have married a daughter of Aaron Rawlings."

Burgesses' Va. Soldiers has the following:- "I, Reuben Moore, knew all of the children of Alexander Newman, and they were, Thomas, Alexander, Reuben, and John."

Newman Family, Virginia.

The Newman family of which records are found in Fairfax County, and Orange County, Virginia, appear to be identical with the Newman family of Frederick County, and this Newman Family found in the counties formed out of Frederick, which were Shenandoah, Berkeley, Hampshire, and Jefferson.

In Hampshire County on Oct. 15, 1791, one William Newman witnessed a deed between Hugh Murphy and John and John Snodgrass, George Newman also signed this document. He might be Wm's father.

Dunmore County was the name given to a part of Shenandoah County for a year or two. This county formed from Frederick County, where there is on record the will of one William Sword, 1796. I intend to get an abstract of this will.)
